DNick Holding plc sells Deutsche Nickel-Press Tec

DNick Holding plc is very pleased to announce the sale of the business of its subsidiary Deutsche Nickel-Press Tec GmbH, Schwerte, to Nammo Group. The sale has been completed on February, 15th, 2007.

PressTec produces high quality metal cups and components as pre-products for industrial partners, the ammunition and automotive industry. The sale is part of the concentration strategy of DNick-Group to the key business of manufacturing iron-nickel products at the affiliated companies Deutsche Nickel GmbH, Schwerte, and Auerhammer Metallwerk GmbH, Aue. The proceeds from the sale will be used for the refund of financial debt and to strengthen the key business.

ND PressTec GmbH will continue to operate as an independent company. The management is participating in the acquisition and will assure that the company will strongly develop and serve its global customers with the same or higher dedication than in the past. The production will be continued and strengthened in the plant in Schwerte with a staff of about 50 employees.
